

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

WARNING

This product is not intended to be used for safety purposes. By installing this product, you are removing the emergency shutoff switch from your machine, and doing so will make it difficult to shut off the machine in an emergency situation. Although this product replaces your emergency shutoff switch, it is not intended to be used in an emergency. This momentary switch will not shut off the machine unless held down continuously for 5 seconds.

Removal

(1) Unscrew the small torx screw to remove the stock kill switch assembly.

(2) Remove the gauge and unplug it from the wiring harness. Remove the right side panel and hood, unplugging any other harness plugs attached, as well as disconnecting the air box. Follow the wires from the stock kill switch cutting any zip ties holding the wiring harness. Trace the wires to locate the wiring harness plug behind the coolant reservoir and unplug it.

(3) Using a small flat head screwdriver to release the tabs, remove the back cap of the harness plug.

(4) Pull the rubber seal out and slide it back along the wires to give yourself enough room to pull the wires out individually.

(5) Release the locking tabs holding the front cap on and pull the cap out until it stops. A second set of locking tabs prevent the cap from coming off. Pry back the second set of locking tabs to remove the cap completely. You should now be able to see all the tabs holding each terminal in and pry them back to remove them. Pull the wires through the rubber seal and backing plate of the plug connector.

Installation

(6) Remove the clamp from the Munster kill switch with an Alan key and install the kill switch on the handlebar in your desired position. Route the kill switch wires through the wiring harness.

(7) Feed the Munster kill switch wires through the plastic cap and rubber seal of the plug connector in any order. Plug the wires into the plug connector making sure the terminals are oriented in the right direction.

(8) Slide the rubber seal along the wires and push it into the back of the plug connector. Slide and snap the rear cap back on making sure the tabs lock. Push and snap the front cap on and plug the connector back into the wiring harness.

(9) Using zip ties, secure the wiring harness and any loose wiring to the machine. Re-install the hood and side panel, making sure to connect the air box and plug in any harness plugs you may have disconnected. Plug in and re-install the gauge.
